Lars Tetens's Blurbs

About me:

You've finally arrived at that place in life which few people come to and where only the most discerning and distinguished tastes reside. Reward yourself with the luxury you deserve. When you are looking for the finest products that all true aficionados require, only a Lars Tetens will do.

Lars Tetens is a man of so many talents he has been dubbed a contemporary Leonardo Da Vinci by his admirers. People ranging from high-profile celebrities to politicians and presidents of Fortune 500 companies are among his abundant admirers. From five years old, the crafts and hobbies Lars explored as a child have developed products in a broad range of categories from luxury merchandise to science and technology. Today, in addition to being a world famous perfumer and chef he is recognized also worldwide for his sumptuous exotic chocolates, chocolate truffles and gourmet lollipops as well as his unique apparel and accessory designs from his house of couture, which continue to set precedents in the fashion industry. Furthermore, he is credited with bringing back the lost ancient cigar making techniques that date back thousands of years. Lars continues to amaze fans with his exquisite artwork and original furniture pieces, his innovative designs of skateboards and advanced motor controllers for HVAC systems, and his hand-made automatic watches with hand-tooled movements, all of which sit at the zeniths of their industries in quality and design. The world might just not be ready for Lars Tetens, but the real question is: Are you?

The worlds most expensive parfums. Batch 4 and 5 of 2008 are unisex parfums (although most women like 4 and men enjoy 5) produced in limited runs of 50 bottles each, individually numbered and created by the greatest perfumer in history, Lars Tetens. We don't put the cost in the bottle, just in the ingredients, which are the purest on the planet. Each one is personally numbered and signed by Lars Tetens.
